Rockford Machinist Fatally Injured in Crash Near Ashton

James R. Brown Crushed Under His Car When it Leaves Highway

James R. Brown, 28, machinist, 826 West Elm street, Rockford, was fatally injured in an automobile crash Saturday night about 10:15 o'clock at Haenisch corner, three miles west of Ashton on the Lincoln Highway, when his car failed to make the curve and crashed through two fences, turned over several times. The driver was thrown clear of the coupe, which is believed to have rolled over his body once before it came to a stop. Wayne Bates of Franklin Grove saw the lights of the wrecked car in the field shortly after farmers residing in the locality, heard the crash, and he reported to State Highway Patrolman George Ives, Jr., who went at once to the scene.

Brown, apparently was driving west on the highway at a high rate of speed and at the corner, scene of many previous accidents, his car proceeded without making the turn, crashed through a barbed wire fence, and struck a snow fence, which was crushed, as the car rolled over several times, finally coming to a stop about 100 feet from the highway right of way.

Dr. Edwin Baker of Ashton was called to the scene and ordered the body of the unconscious man removed to the Dixon hospital, where he expired about 2:15 o'clock Sunday morning. The body was taken to the Staples funeral home where Coroner Frank Nangle conducted an inquest at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Dr. Baker and State Officer Ives were the only witnesses to testify.

The War Today!

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

The speed with which the Japanese have gained a foothold in force on Singapore island—supreme symbol of military might in the Orient—certainly offers little encouragement to the defense, and the best one can say at the moment is that the battle for this immensely important base isn't over.

The landing was made on the northwest coast of the island under cover of darkness, and today the invaders were driving their way eastward in heavy fighting. This gave further evidence of the strength of the attack, for a message from Sydney disclosed that the zone where the Japs came ashore was defended by Australians, who are among the greatest fighters of the Imperial forces.

Again the world is having driven home the vast importance of air-power, for a very considerable degree of the Japanese success is due to supremacy in this branch. Whether the British are able to hold Singapore depends largely on whether they receive heavy reinforcements of fighting planes with which to stand off the Nipponese machines which are described as swarming the sky.

The Japanese assault was preceded by a violent bombardment from heavy artillery on the neighboring peninsula, accompanied by a terrific assault by air. This continued for 24 hours, at the end of which time the Japs made what appears to have been a neat maneuver.

Previously the Nipponese had occupied Palau Ubin, an island at the entrance to Johore Strait off the northeast coast of Singapore.

This was meant to give the impression to the British that the Japanese struck at the other side of Singapore, on the northwest

Gunman, Attempting Jail Delivery, Shot Dead by Detective

Chicago Self-Proclaimed Neighborhood Tough, Gets in Wrong One

Chicago, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A self-styled neighborhood tough got into the wrong neighborhood early yesterday, met a straight shooting detective and didn't live to recount his latest foray into crime.

The last wild exploits of Joseph Skupien, who police said spent about one-third of his life in prison, were in a tavern and a police station in the sprawling Stockyards district. They ended with the 26-year-old ex-convict lying dead on the police station floor, only a few hours after two men had been slain at a tavern holdup.

Shortly after the tavern shooting, Skupien walked into the New City police station early yesterday morning. He waived a pistol and shouted:

"I'm going to rescue my partner. I'll get those dirty squealers."

Sergeant Joseph Connelly stepped toward him but the enraged Skupien, firing one shot wildly, dashed into the squad room where 10 witnesses to the tavern killings were waiting to be questioned. Jack Jachmyak, 23, was being interrogated by police about the slayings.

Threatened Officers
Skupien forced two women in front of him, lined up several other persons, including a reporter, against the wall and backed up against a staircase. He threatened to kill any detectives who came into the room.

Meanwhile, Detective John

Atty. Gerald Jones Home Scene of Fire

The home of City Attorney Gerald Jones, 706 East Fellows street, was badly damaged by fire and water Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock, when both trucks of the fire department were called to combat a blaze which swept away about half of the roof of the house. Fire Chief Sam Cramer stated that the fire probably started from the chimney, and said the flames had gained considerable headway before being discovered.

Attorney Jones discovered the fire when he investigated an unusual noise and upon investigation, discovered the entire east end of the roof ablaze. Two streams of water were played on the flames by the firemen and while the fire damage was confined to the roof and attic, considerable property damage was reported to have resulted from water.

Illinois Clocks Struck Three at 2 a. m. as War Time Made Advent

Chicago, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The clock struck three at 2 a. m. today in Illinois.

Keeping up with the rest of the nation, the state turned its timepieces ahead one hour to inaugurate what President Roosevelt has designated as war time.

Congress made the advanced time legal for interstate commerce in a law passed last month. Its proponents argued it would furnish an extra hour of daylight in the afternoon and conserve electric power for America's expanding war industries.

Most Illinoisans advanced their watches and household clocks before they went to bed last night.

Gov. Green has announced that adoption of war time in Illinois was a matter for local decision, but that he expected universal compliance as part of the state's cooperation in the war effort. All state offices and institutions were operating on War Time today.

The Chicago city council has signified that the new time is O. K., and the aldermen plan to adjust their complicated time ordinance at a meeting Feb. 19. Peoria and East Peoria woke up on war time today, while the Rockford council was scheduled to pass a resolution of approval tonight. Decatur's city council put through a War Time resolution last Thursday.

Japanese Fight Way Into Britain's Fortress Isle-- Fight Hand-to-Hand for Singapore

Bomb Explosion in Tangier Results in Anti-British Riots

Britain Protests That Demonstrations Are Inspired by Axis

By The Associated Press

The battle of diplomacy and propaganda for strategic position in the Mediterranean basin overshadowed actual war there today, with the British charging the axis with sponsoring native outbreaks against them in Spanish Morocco.

London disclosed that a strong protest had been lodged with the commander of the Spanish military forces at Tangier over "axis-inspired" riots among the Moslem natives following the explosion of a time bomb for which axis propagandists, with remarkable promptness, blamed the British.

An authoritative London source said the attention of the Spanish government probably would be directed to axis attempts to embitter British-Spanish relations. Spain conceivably could be forced into war by Germany and Italy, old time benefactors of the present nationalist government of Generalissimo Franco.

The inflammatory trend of axis propaganda over the Tangier incident suggested that this was Adolf Hitler's objective.

Reports on Warfare

Actual warfare in the Mediterranean region was marked by axis reports of a raid on the British naval base at Alexandria, Egypt, new air attacks on Malta and claims that axis airmen had scattered British Imperial columns in eastern Libya. The axis admitted a new RAF attack on Tripoli.

By and large, the British appeared to have checked the German-Italian counter-offensive in Libya about 40 miles west of Tobruk. The axis offered no new claims of ground gained.

Spanish Morocco authorities quieted riotous factions in Tangier by martial law after an outburst which was touched off by the explosion Friday of a time bomb in a taxi loaded with British diplomatic baggage on a Tangier pier.

Fourteen persons on the crowded dock were killed and 36 were wounded.

Reds Launch New Assault

It was noteworthy that Germany, if the Spanish would allow it, could use Spanish soil as a springboard for a direct assault on Gibraltar and across the Gibraltar Strait into northwest Africa, threatening South America and the South Atlantic.

The Russians, meanwhile, were reported launching a new offensive in the Donets basin against German battalions whose massed artillery fire, a Russian expert said, had lost its power. The British radio said the Russians already had announced the recapture of Krasnograd.

Sixty miles southwest of Khar'kov, Krasnograd is an important junction on the Khar'kov-Dniepropetrovsk and Odessa railway, indicating another advance by the Russians upon Dniepropetrovsk.

Planes made in the United States were reported performing satisfactorily on the Russian front in the extreme cold wave which has jammed a large part of the German war machine.

NAZIS LAY MINE FIELDS

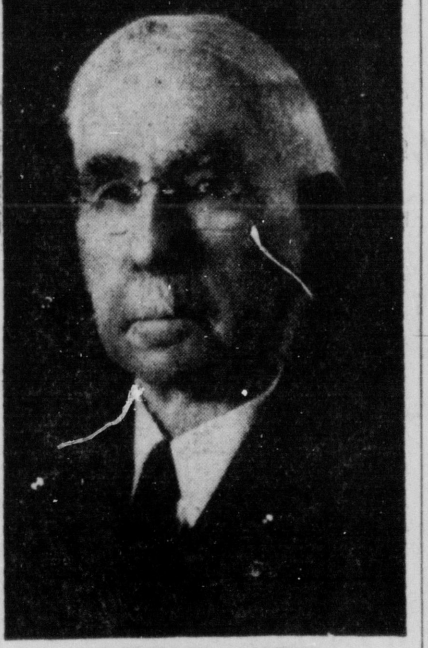

Moscow, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Desperately pressed German troops laid vast mine fields in the Donets basin today in an attempt to halt the on-rushing soviets, but the forces of Marshal Semeon Timoshenko surged forward over the snow-dusted steps.

One mine field nearly two miles long was discovered and Red sappers cut five lanes through it. At another point, the Russians said they extracted 2,600 anti-tank mines buried beneath the snow.

Despite these and other obstacles, the Russians swept three

Plane Flying Over Alto Defense Area Fired on; One Hurt

Granite City, Ill., Feb. 9.—(AP)—A burst of gun fire ended the first airplane ride of Delbert Henson and 15-year-old Beverly Ann Keith, leaving Henson critically wounded.

He was given several blood transfusions.

The plane was flying near the restricted defense area at Alton, Ill., which houses the vast Western Cartridge Company plant.

Soldiers from Jefferson Barracks, Mo., and company police patrol the area. Lieut. J. A. Vilhauer, in charge of the army guards, and company officials declined to comment.

Army authorities at Jefferson Barracks said merely that a report of the shooting had been sent to Seventh Corps Area headquarters at Omaha and an investigation would be made there.

Delbert Richardson, Granite City flying instructor who was piloting the plane, gave this account of the incident:

Seven Shots Hit Ship
Henson and Miss Keith, taking their first plane ride, asked him to fly over the girls' home at Alton. He refused because he feared it was too close to the restricted area.

He then turned the plane at an altitude of 1,100 feet at a point he believed was eight or ten miles from the restricted zone.

As he banked, the first of seven shots hit the ship. One pierced Henson's hip and stomach. Another penetrated the gasoline tank, forcing Richardson to switch to an emergency supply.

Henson slumped against Miss Keith, groaning. Richardson, fearing another salvo, decided against an emergency landing and flew his crippled ship back to the airport.

Seven of the bullets struck the plane's under carriage, wings and fuselage. One of them pierced the pilot's chair, only an inch from Richardson's body.

"It sounded like hail", commented

MacArthur's Force Turns Back New Jap Attacks in Bataan

Corregidor's Big Guns Score Direct Hits on Jap Batteries

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—General Douglas MacArthur reported today his troops on Bataan peninsula in the Philippines repulsed new attacks by the Japanese while in the Manila Bay fortifications silenced several enemy big gun siege batteries on the Cavite shore.

A war department communique said heavy infantry fighting had occurred at several points on the peninsula with hostile dive bombers active overhead, but all attacks were repulsed by the American-Filipino defenders.

In the duel between the Corregidor string of fortifications at the entrance to Manila Bay and the hidden Japanese guns which have been bombarding the forts for several days, the forts' guns scored several direct hits on enemy batteries.

The text of the war department's communique—number 98 of the war—based on reports received here up to 8:30 a. m. CWT today:

"1. The Philippine theater:
"Some of the concealed enemy batteries which have been firing on our harbor defenses from the Cavite shore have been located and attacked by counter-battery fire from our forts. Several direct hits were observed and some of the enemy batteries were silenced.

"Heavy infantry fighting occurred intermittently at various points in the Bataan peninsula. The enemy made several attempts at penetration and in infiltration. All attacks were repulsed by our troops.

"Hostile dive bombers were active over our lines.

"2. There is nothing to report from other areas."

Sunday's Report
Yesterday General MacArthur had reported:

"Fighting is increasing in intensity on our left."

This and today's communique indicated that the new Japanese offensive was developing in the Philippines.

Synchronized with the renewed heavy pressure on the Bataan front was the systematic bom-

MAYRIS CHANEY
Dancer and protegee of Mrs. Roosevelt, whose appointment to civilian defense job irritated some congressmen, poses at her desk in Philadelphia.

First Lady Would Like Opportunity to Explain O. C. D.

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today she would be "perfectly delighted" if congressmen who have criticized certain civilian defense activities and moved to strip it of authority to direct morale-building activities would allow her to explain the situation.

The Office of Civilian Defense has been under congressional fire since the appointment of Melvyn Douglas, movie actor, and Mayris Chaney, dancer friend of Mrs. Roosevelt, to high-paying OCD jobs.

New congressional criticism developed as the house took up a $100,000,000 OCD appropriation bill again.

Mrs. Roosevelt, assistant director of the OCD, told her press conference that she did not directly appoint Miss Chaney but had suggested her name. She said that she did not appoint Douglas and that questions should be directed to James M. Landis, executive officer of OCD, concerning Douglas and to John B. Kelly, director of the physical fitness division at Philadelphia, concerning Miss Chaney.

In New York, Mayor F. H. La Guardia, director of OCD, said he blocked the assignment of Miss Chaney to the morale division last December.

Saying she had not read all the newspaper reports of congressional criticism of the OCD, Mrs. Roosevelt said that if the remarks were directed to her, her answer would be:

Waiting for Summons
"I'm waiting to hear from the gentlemen, hoping they will give me the courtesy of appearing and discussing it with them. They have offices and I have feet."

Mrs. Roosevelt heads the community and volunteer participation section of the OCD. Miss Chaney was placed in charge of children's activities in the physical fitness division.

"There is one inescapable fact that to win this war on the production line we must cut down the number of manhours lost

Nurse Is Held for Murder of Infant

New York, Feb. 9.—(AP)—"One of the finest nurses that ever walked the floor" of the Bronx Maternity hospital was charged today with the opium-drop slaying of a newborn baby girl whose crying upset her.

That description, augmented by the statement she was "an elegant nurse", was given yesterday by Hospital Superintendent Louise M. Wagner as Irma Twiss, 32, herself in tears, was formally accused of homicide in the death of the infant and also accused of feeding the narcotic to another.

"The babies' constant crying drove me crazy", Miss Twiss was quoted by Assistant District Attorney Martin Kraus as saying before being jailed without bail for a hearing Wednesday.

Kraus said the slim, brunette nurse had admitted she was held four days for observation, in Bellevue hospital's psychopathic ward in November, 1940, after she had taken an overdose of sleeping tablets.

He added that she had returned to the Bronx institution three months ago after having received leave last summer to have a baby, which did not live.

Physicians held out some hope for the second baby today, although it was in dangerous condition.

American "Flying Tigers" Count Up 101st. Confirmed Victory Over Japs

Rangoon, Burma, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The American volunteer group—the "Flying Tigers" of Burma's air defenses—was credited with its 101st confirmed combat victory over the Japanese air force today with the discovery of a wrecked bomber which Robert Keaton of Manzanola, Col., attacked Feb. 3, but was not sure he even had damaged.

Keaton, former Colorado College football back who left a naval bombing patrol assignment at San Diego to join the volunteers, had been detailed to the ferry service in Burma until he got the feel of the Tomahawks which he had not pil-

Nipponese Forces Threaten to Over- Run Powerful Base

Commanding General of Australians Claims 'Situation in Hand'

BY CLYDE A. FRANSWORTH
Associated Press War Editor

The Japanese fought their way into the fortress isle of Singapore today on a 10-mile front, threatening to overrun the once powerful British base, but after several hours of bloody fighting the situation was reported officially to be "well in hand."

That word came from Major General Henry Gordon Bennett, commander of the Australian forces, in whose zone in the mangrove swamps and rubber plantations of the northwestern shore the invaders first struck.

"We have taken our stand on a strong line and are organizing an attack which it is hoped will recover as much as possible of the lost terrain", Bennett said, thus holding out but slim hope that the Japanese could be readily dislodged.

The strong Japanese landing had turned Singapore's ordeal of shell-fire and bombs in the past week of siege from the opposite shore of Johore Strait into a man-to-man, weapon-to-weapon struggle.

The Japanese declared that their beach heads were so well consolidated that tanks already had been ferried across to bolster their shock troops.

Report Unconfirmed
While this seemed quite possible, there was no confirmation from Singapore.

Likewise unconfirmed was a roundabout report that Japanese paratroopers had been dumped before the forward defense positions and already had engaged a British detachment.

The paratrooper story—via Tokyo, the Oslo radio and Reuters—said also that the Japanese fleet was ready for attack near Singapore "at any moment."

In such a fight Singapore's monster guns—as heavy as 18 inches—might well get in their first good looks for they were primarily designed to cover the sea approaches.

In a broadcast claim the Japanese declared that in broadening their wedge into the island this afternoon the captured Tengah airdrome, about 10 miles north-west of Singapore city. Such a success might permit the enemy to land air-borne troops or supplies if need be.

While the fate of Singapore thus hung in the balance, Japanese airmen, bombing Batavia for the first time, stepped up their air attacks on the Netherlands East Indies—a development taken at Batavia, the capital, to be a prelude to an attempted landing on Java.

Java, principal island of the N. E. I., is the site of the United Nations' headquarters in the southwest Pacific.

The importance of Java's defense mounted in ratio to the Japanese successes on Singapore.

For the battle of Singapore had become, like the American-Filipino defense of Bataan peninsula, a holding operation, a diversion of Japanese forces from further ob-

Philadelphia Has $1,000,000 Fire

Philadelphia, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The city's most destructive fire in 18 years ravaged a large block of business buildings and homes last night and early today, causing damage firemen said would exceed $1,000,000.

A woman spectator—one of nearly 50,000 who crowded into the thickly populated area at Columbia and Ridge avenues—says she saw a "teen-age boy plunge from a rooftop into the flames when a wall collapsed, but police reported no one was missing."

A 30-mile-an-hour north wind sent flames hundreds of feet into the air. Eight alarms were sounded. Forty fire companies and 75 pieces of apparatus joined the fight.

Four buildings were destroyed and 13 others were damaged before the swift-spreading flames were brought under control.

Approximately 200 persons—most of them firemen—were treated for injuries at the scene. Eleven persons were taken to hospitals.

Fifty families were left homeless.

APRIL 12 IS TO BE WEDDING DATE OF MAXINE MCGINNIS AND YOUNG IOWAN, R. R. SCHALLER

Romance is so entwined with the sentiment surrounding St. Valentine's Day, now less than a week distant, that the traditional motif of hearts and flowers fitted nicely into appointments for an announcement party given Saturday evening, at which a well-known Dixon young woman, Miss Maxine McGinnis, was making known the plans for her mid-April marriage to Robert Ray Schaller of Des Moines, Iowa. Maxine, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McGinnis of 210 Crawford avenue, is to become the bride of the young Iowan, son of the H. F. Schallers of Des Moines, on Sunday afternoon, April 12, at the First Methodist church. A reception will follow at the McGinnis home.

Mrs. McGinnis invited a group of 18 to The Coffee House for dinner, where bouquets of red and white carnations trimmed the party tables. News of the approaching marriage (which cannot properly be termed as a surprise to the couple's friends) was revealed with discovery of the names "Bob and Maxine" and their wedding date, written on tiny white hearts, attached to heart-shaped placecards. A bouquet of yellow roses was Maxine's gift from her fiancé.

After the dinner, tables were placed for bridge games at the McGinnis home. Miss Vivian Stiles and Mrs. Jack Little were unwrapping score favors at the close of the games.

Maxine was graduated from Dixon high school, and later attended the University of Iowa. She is now employed at the Illinois Northern Utilities company.

Mr. Schaller is a graduate of the Military Academy in Mexico, Mo., and of the Iowa State college engineering school at Ames. His parents, and Miss Marjorie Doll of Des Moines, and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Johnson of Rockford were week end guests of the McGinnis family.

Included on the guest list for Saturday evening's party were Mrs. H. F. Schaller of Des Moines, Mrs. W. R. Johnson of Rockford, Mrs. Clarence Vroegedewey, Mrs. Ray Wilbur, Mrs. Mark Keller, Mrs. Kent Leeper, Mrs. Jack Little, Mrs. James Furlong, Mrs. Lyle Myers, and the Misses Marjorie Doll of Des Moines, Olga Eneroth, Barbara Campbell, Naomi Woll, Leone Kreim, Helen Krug, and Vivian Stiles.

WOMEN'S CLUBS' PART IN NATIONAL WAR EFFORT TO BE LEARNED ON SATURDAY

Like a figure advancing in the fog, first seen as a vague shadow that gradually assumes shape, the women's part in the national war effort has begun to take on definite outline. Even the stoutest-hearted confess to being just a little awed by its proportions, however, and there is an increasing interest in determining how women can aid in speeding up gradually to the 24-hour-a-day momentum that an all-out Defense effort is bound to bring.

Like women in every part of the country, members of the Dixon Women's club are preparing to take the change-over from peace-time pursuits to war-time emergency measures in their stride. And in order to furnish the local club with first-hand information on procedure, Mrs. E. W. Merrick's American citizenship and international relations department several weeks ago cancelled the program originally scheduled for Saturday, in favor of bringing Mrs. H. A. Brinkman of Chicago to the club's lecture platform to discuss "Women's Clubs in the Federal Defense Movement."

Numerous invitations have been sent out of town for the special program on Saturday. Mrs. J. R. McDaniel, president of the Dixon club, announces that Mrs. F. M. Keck of Freeport and Mrs. B. M. Fray of Prophetstown, first and second vice presidents of the 13th District Federation and co-chairmen of the national defense for their district, are among those who have received invitations to meet Mrs. Brinkman at luncheon at the Hotel Nachusa, preceding the afternoon program, scheduled for 2 o'clock, a half hour earlier than usual.

Others receiving luncheon invitations include Mrs. D. C. Thompson of Compton, president of the 13th District Federation; Mrs. Harry Patterson of Franklin Grove, president of the Lee County Federation, and her national defense chairman, Mrs. McDaniel; Miss Esther Barton, national defense chairman of the Dixon club and her co-chairmen, Mrs. Merrick and Mrs. E. V. Mellott; the chairmen of 15 defense departments of the hostess club, and others.

Presidents of Women's clubs throughout the county and their national defense chairmen have also been invited to hear Mrs. Brinkman's address, to be presented in the Loveland Community House auditorium.

BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

Mrs. Arnold Schultz was entertaining at luncheon and bridge today at her home.

J. B. Lennon Is Guest Speaker at D. A. R. Luncheon

Pages of Dixon's past were turned backward Saturday afternoon by J. B. Lennon in an address on "Local History", given at the annual luncheon meeting of Dixon chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held at St. Luke's Episcopal church. More than 100 members and guests were seated at long tables, colorfully appointed in February's patriotic motif, with flags in silver holders, red, white and blue candles in crystal holders, and chevrons.

"Compared with our eastern states, Dixon's 111 years of history is a short tale," Mr. Lennon commented. "Conversations with old settlers," he continued, "and their descendants give us our chief knowledge of events which took place before there were newspapers or courthouse records. Frank Stevens was the master historian of Dixon."

The speaker referred to the Indian mounds and villages in this vicinity, and of the trails and roads which converged at Dixon. The Kellogg trail, which went from Fort Clark (Peoria) to Galena, crossed the river two or three miles above Dixon, he said. As Grand Detour was a busy trading center, the old river road to that village was important. On the Rock Island road, traces of the early military road may still be found. The Dad Joe road south of Dixon, was well-traveled, as

A Thought for Today

Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.—John 20:29.

It is believable because unbelievable—Burton.

Waste at Washington

Almost overnight the country has broken out in a rash of criticism directed at Washington's waste of time, the alleged crass inefficiency of some bureaucrats, and the waste of money. Money seems to be mentioned least—but it is involved in the waste of time and the lack of efficiency.

There is a reason for the seemingly aimless wandering of certain groups of bureaucrats, and there is a reason for the waste of time.

This war, into which we have barely started, is to be fought by two armies. One, of course, is the army in uniform, firing guns. The other is the army of bureaucrats whose great numbers have made it almost a crime for a non-bureaucrat or non-office holder to reside in the nation's capital.

The nation is pretty well acquainted with the psychology of the soldier. His job is the most secure thing on earth; in fact, he can't quit even if he wishes. His pay is secure. He gets paid while on leave, or drills, or fights. He gets paid while on leave, while in the hospital, or on special duty. His meal ticket is supplied by the government. His clothes are provided free of charge. The soldier is almost in the position of the peasant who remarked "... I shall not want ... Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies ... My cup runneth over." No one understands better than the soldier the stupendous resources and power of the government of the United States. The soldier is worth more than he is paid, but nothing could be more secure than his job.

But the bureaucrats recognize the government's resources and power as well as the soldier does. Like the trooper, they have a table before them, and in addition they lie down in the green pastures and are led beside the still waters. They get their pay whether they have work or not—as long as they have influence. In too many cases at Washington there is an overlapping of functions, a duplication of effort which is conducive and indecision, quarrels over who shall control what, and if so, why. Everybody's business becomes nobody's business; too many cooks make hash of the broth. Politics is at the bottom of the whole mess—which has existed ever since the last war and will be remedied only when Gabriel toots his horn.

Of course there is waste at Washington—waste of time, money and effort, and it is one of the horrors of war that such a condition arises. The waste will continue. Let a bureau get started, and nothing less than a plague can eliminate it.

Many business men did not understand the situation until they became tangled with priorities and the task of seeking contracts. The muddled situation, however, explains the reluctance of many patriots to see private business turned over to bureaucrats—as many socialists wish.

We have not meant here to condemn all federal employees. They are very useful bureaus—weather bureau, bureau of standards and others which have well-defined functions and scientific personnel, and perform duties essential to our way of living. The country is on the way to discover anew what tasks a central government can do best, and what it had best let alone.

What's Going on Here?

Somewhere in the State Department ought to give a simple, clear, public explanation of how these two news items happened to be capable of appearing almost at the same time:

1. A shipload of American supplies left for Vichy France, during the last week of January.
2. British broadcast reports that "Vice Premier" Darlan of France has agreed to send two shiploads of supplies weekly to Nazi General Rommel's forces in North Africa.

Unless a fairly clear definition is made as to just what is American policy toward France since we entered the war (and bear in mind that General Rommel is now fighting us and our policy can scarcely be what it was before Dec. 7) people are going to begin to wonder what's going on here.

Maybe it's all baby-food that is going to France; maybe it's something that cannot even be used to substitute for what is being sent to Rommel. Maybe there is a good answer. Oughtn't the American people to know what it is?

America's Answer

The United States Navy was struck a treacherous and disastrous blow at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. It was a blow at the heart of the American people.

How did that heart respond? Since Dec. 7, more than 100,000 young Americans have enlisted in the Navy, and enlisting goes on at the same pace. In 1940, last peacetime year, the whole naval establishment numbered only about 170,000 men, which gives a good measure of what it means for 100,000 men to volunteer in less than two months.

The authorized strength of the Navy is now around 500,000. At the present rate of enlistment there seems no doubt at all that as many men as can be handled will step forward until the goal is reached. This byproduct was, perhaps, not strictly a part of the Japanese plan that led the raiders to Pearl Harbor.

South African asbestos has been placed on the priority lists. Hope they're planning to make it hot for a certain party.

There'll be less nickel in the new nickels, but that won't do any good if they still fit the jukeboxes.

Public Invited To Participate in Boy Scouts' Pilgrimage

Lincoln Statue Will Be Scene of Patriotic Program Thursday

The Boy Scouts of Dixon are planning a Pilgrimage to the Lincoln Statue here next Thursday afternoon in honor of the Emancipator's birthday. A committee of local Scout leaders met a few days ago and planned for an impressive ceremony in recognition of Lincoln's services as a young man in the Blackhawk Indian troubles.

Invitations are being sent to all the Boy Scout troops in a radius of twenty miles to join in this observance with the five local Boy Scout and Cub units in Dixon. The Girl Scout organizations are also considering taking part in the ceremony, and the Daughters of Union Veterans and other patriotic groups may be present.

The Pilgrimage is one of many similar pilgrimages to be conducted in all parts of the country wherever Lincoln statues are located. This is a part of Boy Scout anniversary week, as well as to commemorate the birth of Abraham Lincoln. The Dixon Pilgrimage will be especially appropriate for Boy Scouts as the Dixon state of Lincoln is the only one depicting him as a young soldier.

Parade from Court House

The program calls for a parade from the court house to the statue, the singing of patriotic songs, a short message about Lincoln from one of the senior Scouts of Dixon, presenting a wreath for the monument; a short patriotic message linking youth with present defense needs; and the sounding of taps. A. V. Lund, local defense coordinator, has been asked to bring the message calling upon Dixon youth to rally for their country as Lincoln did in his day.

The singing at the monument will be in charge of Roy Willard, Scout executive for Ogle, Lee and Whiteside counties. Willard Moore, scoutmaster of Troop 72 will serve as parade marshal. The Rev. R. S. Wilson of troop 85 is general chairman of the occasion, and L. P. Keeney of North Central Club Pack, C. J. McClean of Troop 89 and Claude Curran, district chairman, are also members of the committee planning the occasion.

The public is invited to attend the ceremony, which begins at 2:30 p. m. All Scouts and Cubs are expected to march, whether in uniform or not. All marchers are to meet at the court house at 2 p. m.

Thirteen-Year-Old Byron "Soldier" Is Wounded Saturday

Wayne Reed, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Reed of Byron, narrowly escaped death while he and a companion were playing soldiers early Saturday evening, when he was shot through the left shoulder with a .38 caliber revolver, apparently fired at close range.

The revolver was in the hands of Bob Whetsel, 15, Byron, when it was discharged. It belonged to Bob's father and the boys were under the impression the revolver was unloaded.

Both of the boys had been warned by their parents to leave firearms alone, but the war spirit apparently caused them to forget the warnings and they were playing with the gun outside the Whetsel boy's home when the shooting occurred.

The bullet crashed through the Reed boy's shoulder, narrowly missing an artery. It is believed to have shattered part of the shoulder blade, but high hopes were held for the boy's recovery at Rockford hospital.

Neither of the boys was able to explain exactly what happened. The Reed boy was suffering from shock and was unable to talk very much, while his friend was feeling so badly about the incident he could not be questioned either.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Feb. 9.—A secret meeting of government publicity men took place the other day to find out why Mr. American Citizen is not more enthusiastic about this war.

This new bogey has been rising for some time. Officials are becoming aware of the fact that apathy has been creeping upon the country since shortly after Pearl Harbor. Popular push is lacking. In short, government pulse-feelers fear that the people are settling back to the pre-Pearl Harbor remote and not connected with them.

Reports have been received from the west coast that the citizens even there have slumped into a lachrymose since the first furious rush to organize blackouts and other air raid precautions. This baffles the experts.

The meeting of publicity men was called by Generalissimo Archibald MacLeish, head of the new Office of Facts and Figures, and his assistant, Captain Robert Kintner (excolumnist). Those attending represented the finest public relations acumen of the new deal, but the general impression made on them was that MacLeish had a fine new organization and wanted suggestions as to what to do with it.

The main program announced by MacLeish was a plan to set up in OFF several "departments" to build up public morale. Although the description of these new departments was a little vague, three were outlined as follows:

One would bring home to the American people just who are our friends and who are our enemies in this war. Another would drum into the public the need for individual sacrifices to win the war. The third would aim at whipping up war production.

MacLeish desired that all agencies of the government make every effort to adjust their activities to aid these programs. To show that he wasn't fooling, he announced that in the future, cabinet members and heads of government agencies must submit their speeches in advance for OFF approval. What men like State Secretary Hull, Navy Secretary Knox and sarcastic Mr. Ickes said when they heard this order, can only be guessed at.

Experienced public relations experts who sat in the gathering and listened to MacLeish and bumptious young Bob Strauss, assistant publicity man for the Office of Emergency Management, discuss the state of the nation, felt that something a little more ambitious would have to be tried before the desired public enthusiasm is rallied.

Of course, more bands and minute speakers could be organized but somehow the administration inclines toward avoiding this repetition of the last war. The White House is definitely anti-hippo.

Some old-timers suggest that the American people get right down to brass tacks and realize how serious our situation can be before this year is over. Putting it badly, the British are being pushed back by a superior German force in Libya which may be invading Egypt before long. General MacArthur can't hold out forever. Singapore looks bad. The Japanese can very conceivably take Rangoon; cut off the Burma Road and kill our aid to China.

The Board of Economic Warfare has a tough new problem on its hands. Believe it or not, it is that of trying to get various parts of the British empire to produce material useful in the war and not material just useful to them. We have lost about one quarter of our high grade chromium production in the Philippines. We still get fifty per cent from the Union of South Africa. We would like them to increase their production to make up our loss but amazingly enough they would still rather mine gold. Right now gold is very useful to the Union of South Africa, but not much to the war effort.

"THE BIG WIND—"

CHAPTER XXXI

HENDY flew back to report, and brought word to the sheriff that Loren Oliver was ready to face trial any time the governor would guarantee his safety.

"Looks like we wouldn't need him," Mowry said.

"How's that again?" I said. "Bixie Groff has lit out for the hills. He talked too much. The bullet that killed my Cousin Maurice didn't fit Prof. Oliver's gun. It did fit Bixie's. No, I don't reckon there'll be any further trouble for the Prof. But I reckon he'd better be gettin' back here. Pretty quick, too."

He gave me the meaningful eye. Fortunately Hendy didn't take any notice. He was explaining to Judy that his orders were to fly her down to Charleston where the yacht had put in. She went in to finish packing.

"What's about this cruise, Hendy?" I asked him. "Is it a plant to get Juddy back into the Kent family?"

He shook his head, and looked quite melancholy, for him. "Not a hope," he said. "I can take it when I'm licked. Don't let her marry Todd, though. It'll never work."

A swell lad in lots of ways, Hendy, and no man's fool. "Make your mind easy, pal," I said. "She isn't having any of Angel."

The helicopter took off, leaving a large vacant spot in the mid of my riff, if you get me. I missed Doc as much as Juddy. Imagine me, Mom Baumer, the old road tramp, getting herself all wound up in domestic ties!

IN a few days the Sears murder was in the clear. The grand jury indicted Bixie Groff—and find him if you can. One rainy morning in comes Doc, looking for his breakfast. His first question was about Juddy.

"She's on a cruise," I said. "Is she all right?"

"Sure, she's all right."

"Does she need me for anything?"

"No, she doesn't need you."

"Because I'm here?" "I reckon it's mainly because of the Hanging Tree. I'm no nervous Natalie. Doc, but there's times when I think how close a call it was for you and Old Swoby and—well, I see things, too, passing the bend."

"The tree won't stand forever," he said.

"God send the big wind that'll blow it down!" I said. "Would she come back then?" "I wouldn't wonder a mite," I said. "Stick around and see."

He shook his head. "I'm leaving as soon as I can get things cleaned up."

"Huh? What about your Wandos?"

"No more Wandos." "What d'you mean, no more Wandos? Dead injuns don't walk out on you, just like that."

Illini in First of Big Ten Basketball Race--Face Hoosiers Tonight at Indiana

Illinois in 41-33 Win Over Wildcats

Otto Graham and His Mates Fail To Do It

Chicago, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Tonight it will be Indiana's turn to try to stop Illinois in the Big Ten basketball race.

Seven other conference teams have tried and failed. The only teams the Illini have not faced so far are the Hoosiers and Purdue—and Illinois will not get around to meeting the Boilermakers until March 7.

Northwestern, which thought its 500 record in six games might be enough to scare out Coach Douglas Mills' big, young sophomore crew, found out differently Saturday night when the Illini retained the upper hand the whole distance to forge a 41-33 victory.

As the Wildcats dropped into their fourth defeat, so did Iowa. The Hawkeyes bowed to Purdue, 45-44, and the field of hopefuls—teams with only three defeats and still nursing ideas of overtaking the unbeaten Illini was reduced to four: Minnesota, Indiana, Wisconsin and Purdue.

The Gophers, holding tight in second place, downed Ohio State by a wide margin of 63-33, and the eighth-place Buckeyes were plunged perilously near the ninth-place Michigan Wolverines.

Michigan was idle Saturday night, as were Chicago and Indiana. Wisconsin dropped a non-league 47-42 decision to Great Lakes.

In addition to the Illinois-Indiana clash tonight at Bloomington, Ohio State will be at Iowa, Northwestern at Purdue and Wisconsin at Chicago. Saturday Illinois will be host to Michigan. Purdue will play at Minnesota. Iowa will be at Northwestern. Ohio State will meet Wisconsin at Madison and Chicago will go to Indiana.

Center Vic Wukovits, led the Illini to victory over Northwestern by scoring 14 points. Otto Graham tallied the same number for the Wildcats, but his high-scoring running mate, guard Russ Wendland, was held to two points by Jack Smiley, which contributed materially to the leaders' success.

Purdue piled up a 29-15 half-time edge over Iowa, only to see the Hawkeyes come within one point of tying the score as the final gun sounded. Top scorers were Milt Kuhl of Iowa, 17 points, and Forrest Sprowl, Purdue, with 16.

Minnesota's slam-bang triumph over Ohio State was built up by 31 points in the first half and 32 in the second. Don Smith of the Gophers was the high scorer with 14 points.

LOOKING BACK

At one time, the British Isles were connected to the continent of Europe. The North Sea did not exist, but there was a great river that flowed north and met the sea between the shores of Scotland and Norway.

UNEXPLAINED PHENOMENA

Even today, science is not sure just how the changing of caterpillars into butterflies takes place. It is one of the most wonderful phenomena in the world of nature.

CELESTIAL AMBASSADORS

Ancient Chinese looked on comets as ambassadors journeying from one celestial region to another, and kept accurate records of them.

Air Forces of One Million Men Will Be Called in 1942

President Orders Up All Organized Units Now in Reserves

The war department has announced the air force is being expanded to 2 million men. Plans call for enrolling 1 million officers and men in the air force by the end of this year.

The expansion is being carried on to provide men to fly and maintain the 185,000 planes President Roosevelt called for in his annual message to congress.

At the same time the war department announcement was issued Roosevelt summoned into active military service all organized reserve units not already on active duty. An executive order said the dates for calling the various units will be announced later.

Conscripts Face Recall

The war department did not divulge figures on the number or character of reserve units involved in the order. However it is estimated that the order will bring 200,000 National Guardsmen and conscripts, released from active duty last autumn after more than a year's service, back into the army. The releases were principally granted men over 28 years of age.

Back in service the reservists will be subject to serve for duration of the war and six months thereafter.

Bringing the air corps up to a strength of 2 million is part of a general program which will increase the army strength to between 7,500,000 and 10,000,000 men. Of these 5,000,000 are expected to serve in expeditionary forces.

Preparing Victory Drive

Roosevelt said that the United States has already 6, 8, or 10 expeditionary forces at various strategic centers over the world. These forces will be augmented for the victory drive to begin early in 1943, as announced by the President and Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

On Jan. 15 Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson announced the President had authorized the expansion of the army to 3,600,000 men in 1942. At the same time Stimson announced revision of qualification for aviation cadets in order to enable the air force to expand to the degree necessary to man the huge air fleet envisioned by the chief executive.

Train Pilots at West Point

The war department says that as a further expansion of training plans, an air curriculum will be added to the studies at the military academy at West Point, N. Y. A number of cadets will be graduated from that institution as pilots instead of being called upon to take a year's flight training on graduation.

War department plans to double the army within the year are to be accomplished without calling men with dependents into active service. After next Jan. 1, when the army is expected to be ordered doubled again, it is expected that disruption of family life will begin on a large scale.

In issuing his order calling all reservists into active service, Roosevelt acted under his authority as commander in chief of the army. It was said that reservists holding key positions in industry will not be pulled from their jobs.

Call "Paper" Divisions

The President's order called to active duty 27 organized infantry divisions which exist only on paper.

Activating the 27 divisions will be carried out in this manner:

Reserve or regular army officers will be assigned, along with enlisted men. The ranks then will be filled out largely from conscripts. These 27 divisions are among the 32 which Stimson said recently would be added to the forces this year to increase them to 3,600,000 men.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Spirit" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 8th.

The Golden Text was, "I have poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God" (Ezekiel 39: 29).

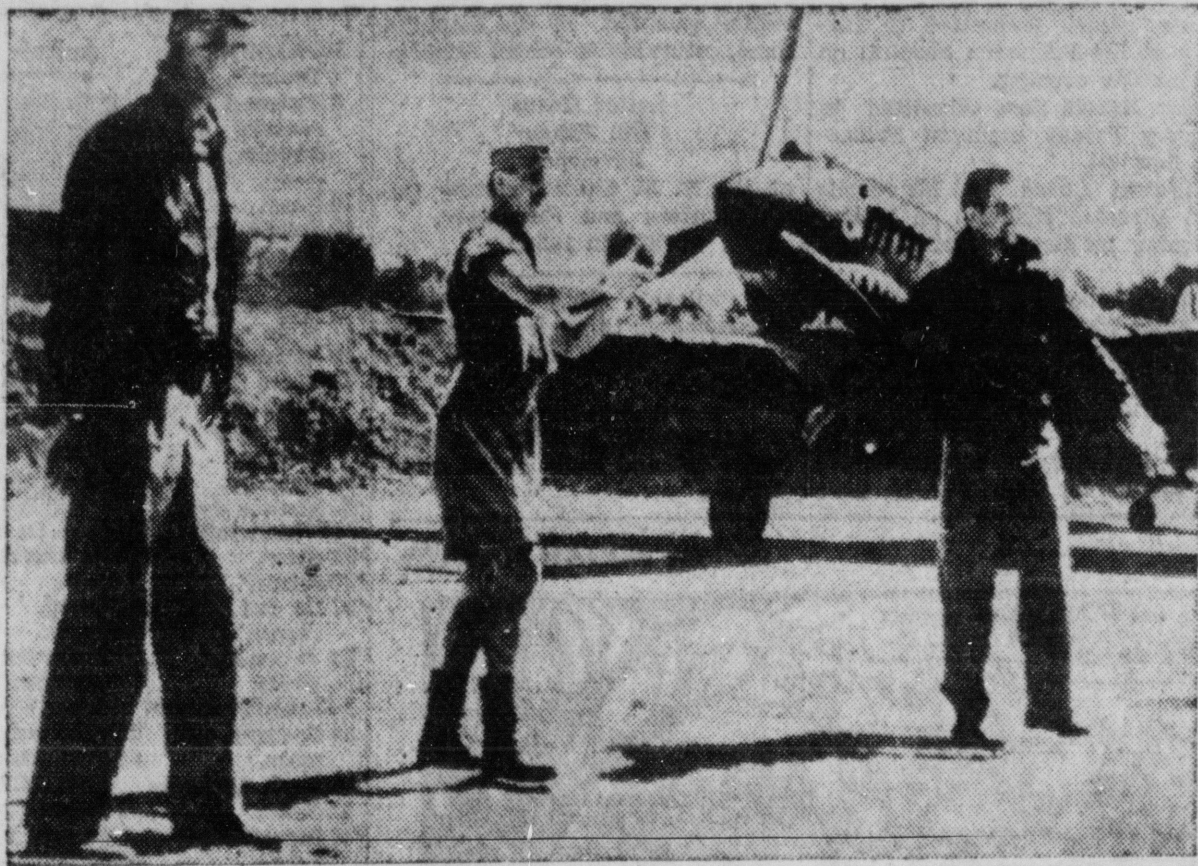

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things" (Phil. 4: 8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "How much more should we seek to apprehend the spiritual ideas of God, than to dwell on the objects of sense! Every step towards goodness is a departure from materiality, and is a tendency towards God, Spirit" (pp. 510, 213).

Public Debt Limit of Hundred Billion Dollars To Be Asked

That Figure May Be Only Starter in View of War Conditions

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Congress, which a year ago was debating whether the country could stand a national debt of $65,000,000,000, will be asked soon to authorize one of $100,000,000,000.

With the debt now at $60,198,958,101 and rising rapidly with growing war expenditures, an early increase must be made in the present $65,000,000,000 limit and Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the senate finance committee indicated leaders were about agreed that a hundred billion is a nice round figure.

"We could raise it to $85,000,000,000 at first and then raise it later, but I think most everybody up here will want to do it all at one jump," he told reporters.

45 Billion in World War

The debt limit is the amount fixed by congress that the treasury can owe. It was set at $45,000,000,000 during the World War and for years nobody gave it a thought because the debt was well under that figure.

But in 1940, after a series of depression years when government spending far exceeded revenues, the treasury's outstanding debt began to approach the authorized maximum. Congress cautiously increased the limit $4,000,000,000.

Then, last year, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau asked that it be raised to $65,000,000,000 and congress complied after considerable debate.

An increase to $100,000,000,000 might be only a starter. President Roosevelt's $59,027,992,300 war budget for the 12 months beginning next July 1 contemplates that by July 1, 1943, the national debt will be $110,421,000,000.

Byrd Raises Controversy

Although leaders foresaw speedy congressional approval of a $35,000,000,000 increase in the present debt limit, Senator Harry E. Byrd (D-Va.) served notice that he would try to attach a controversial requirement that all obligations of government corporations, such as the RFC, be lumped together as part of the public debt. Estimating these obligations at $10,000,000,000, the Virginia senator said "they are part of the public debt and should be listed as such."

Support for the Byrd proposal was voiced by Senators Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.), Robert A. Taft (R-O.) and George.

Vandenberg said government corporations had issued billions of dollars of obligations backed by the treasury although "not a nickel shows in the public debt statement."

"We should start in the direction of utterly candid bookkeeping and the present bookkeeping certainly is not that," the Michigan senator said. "Everything should be kept above the table from now on."

Quiet Week Ahead

But Senator Prentiss M. Brown (D-Mich.), who was senate floor leader for the debt increase last year, said that most of the loans of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, the Home Owners Loan corporation, and similar government lending agencies "will be repaid at least in part. I'm not convinced that they can be classed properly as part of the regular debt."

With the debt question not yet officially raised the senate has a quiet legislative week in prospect.

On the house side, consideration was resumed today of the $160,000,000 deficiency appropriation that brought a volley of protests last week at employment of Mayris Chaney, dancer and friend of Mrs. Roosevelt and

Wartime Activity Is Hurting Enrollment State Normal Schools

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 9.—(AP)—The wartime military service call and the lure of high wages in war industries have reduced enrollment in the state's five normal schools from ten to 20 per cent, posing serious financial problems for the institutions, Director Frank G. Thompson of the State Department of Registration and Education said today.

Thompson said the enrollment drops were serious because the schools depended to a large degree upon tuition income for their operating funds.

He said he had urged the school managers to adopt retrenchment programs, saving on the purchases of books and supplies, cutting down on faculty travel, curtailing student help and making other expense reductions.

Thompson said enrollment at Illinois State Normal University, Normal, for the second semester this year dropped 15 per cent, from 547 to 463.

How to Save Your Windows in Case of Bombing Attack

Directions for making and applying home made adhesive tape to prevent the shattering of window glass in bombing raids have been issued by the health supplies branch of the war productions board. They include a formula for making a simple paste designed to obviate the necessity for using regular adhesive plaster, civilian supplies of which have been curtailed to meet war needs.

The formula was presented to WPB by Ivor Griffith, of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science, who began working on it after the administration requested that adhesive tape be conserved because it contains cloth, rubber, and zinc oxide, all of which have important military uses.

Base of Old Bed Sheets

In issuing its direction, the WPB health supplies branch explained that the home made recipe will produce the same results as adhesive tape without requiring critical materials. The directions follow:

1. Cut old bed sheets into one inch strips. If old bed sheets are not available use a cheap material such as unbleached muslin. Lay the pieces on a board and with a paint brush generously dab them with the paste.

2. Then paste the strips on the windows an inch apart both up and down and sideways. Finally paste two diagonals from corner to corner of each pane.

All ends should reach and overlap the edge of the window frame. Very little light is lost through this method.

Ingredients for the paste are as follows: Wheat flour, 6 ounces; powdered alum, 1/2 ounce; corn sirup, 4 fluid ounces, and water, 2 pints.

"Rub the flour and alum to a smooth paste with the water and sirup," the directions state. "Heat quickly to the boiling point with constant stirring to avoid burning. Remove from the fire at first indication of active boiling. A slower method involves the use of the double boiler."

"If this paste is to be held in storage, refrigeration will keep it sweet for several days. But if it has to be kept over a long period there should be added to the above formula, with the alum, a level teaspoonful of benzoate of sodium."

In times of crisis, people usually look for a "goat" upon which to place the blame for an emergency that is really nobody's fault. Business has been the whipped boy upon many occasions—and business used to take its spanking and like it.

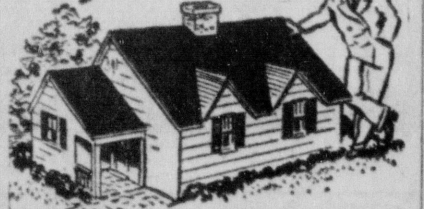

In the present emergency, business is making no apologies and taking no criticism. It is doing an unparalleled job. It has done a top-notch job on many previous occasions. The difference can be found in the fact that this time business is keeping the public informed of what's happening.

Retail business has learned that doing its job is not enough. Letting the public know how that job is being done becomes more and more important.

Stores are telling you why certain items are not available in their stocks. They're telling you why you can buy only limited quantities of some other commodities. They're telling you what they're doing to relieve shortages in still other lines. They're giving you complete information on how various substitutes will work. They're telling you when to buy still other items, and are explaining the reasons for temporary price increases on some seasonal lines.

Critic of Dancing Worries Teachers in OCD Is Threatened

Congressman Taber Gets Anonymous Calls To "Lay Off" Stand

Washington, D. C.—Rep. John Taber (R-NY) has disclosed he has received several anonymous telephone calls and telegrams warning him to "lay off" criticism of the Office of Civilian Defense for giving high salaried jobs to such persons as Melvyn Douglas of the movies and Mayris Chaney, a night club dancer.

"The telephone has been busy with such calls," Taber said, "but threats don't bother me. None of those who called claimed to be employed in the OCD."

Rep. Taber, who is 61 years old, said he invited each caller to come to his office to discuss the question face to face. After waiting in vain for some one to show up, Taber finally put on his hat and coat and went home.

Douglas on for $8,000

Douglas has been appointed head of an OCD arts council at a salary of $8,000 a year and Miss Chaney is on the pay roll for $4,600 a year as head of children's activities in the division of physical fitness. Both appointments have been denounced in the house, which has approved an amendment to bar the use of civilian defense funds for fan dancing, street shows, or other public entertainment.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the president, who is head of the volunteer participation division of the OCD, was accused during the house debate of undermining the civilian defense program. Rep. Taber, ranking minority member of the appropriations committee, was one of the house members who criticized the conduct of the program.

A survey disclosed that five agencies exist in the government for doing the work which Douglas is supposed to do as head of the OCD arts council. As explained by James M. Landis, OCD executive officer, the council would serve as a clearing house for writing and acting talent needed by defense agencies.

Already Doing the Work

Already set up to do substantially the same work—and doing it—are the following:

1. The Hollywood Victory Committee for Stage, Screen, and Radio, with Clark Gable heading the actors' end of it.

2. Camp Shows, Inc., of the United Service organizations, which supplies talent for army and navy camps.

3. The office of facts and figures. Its file contains the names of dozens of writers and others who have volunteered by organization or individuals in the arts field. The OFF planned to call on these people as federal agencies asked for them.

4. The army's radio branch, for special army demands.

Spokesmen for the army, navy, Red Cross, and the treasury department's defense savings staff said all these agencies are getting all the talent they need with the least possible extra motion.

Illinois River Flood Water Receding Today

Ottawa, Ill., Feb. 9.—(AP)—High waters in the Illinois river dropped a foot and a half here overnight, leading to the hope that several scores of families between Peru and Joliet could soon move back to their homes in flooded lowlands.

Friday's heavy downpour had sent the river out of its banks in some places. At the Starved Rock dam the water was gradually receding, but the lower pool measured 25.54 feet this morning compared with a normal reading of about nine feet.

A crew of 28 battled 18 hours before the Alexander Mackenzie, third large stern-wheeled boat operating on the inland waters, was brought under control in the Marseilles pool late Saturday. Cables stretched to the north bank finally conquered the unusually swift current. The barge had a cargo of 11,000 tons of coal consigned to Chicago.
